New York Stock Market

New York, May 1.—An outburst of strength such as had not been witnessed for several weeks radically altered the appearance of the stock market to-day after a long period of hesitation and declining prices. Such leaders as Reading, Union Pacific, Steel and Amalgamated rose 2 to 3 points. Canadian Pacific scored a six-point advance. The market was broad and vigorous on the upturn, and all classes of stocks benefited by the movement.

The reason commonly ascribed for the change was the decidedly hopeful tone of cable advices following the conference of ambassadors in London. Montenegro's reply to the powers was believed to have done much to clear the atmosphere.

believed to have done much to clear the atmosphere.

It was probably true, however, that the technical condition of the market was largely responsible for the extent of the movement. Selling had gone on so long that the short account apparently was inflated to an abnormal degree. When the turn in the market came, bear traders were compelled to cover hastly, bidding against each other for stocks and running up prices on themselves.

The upward tendency of the leaders was held in check during the early

The upward tendency of the lenders was held in check during the early part of the day by renewed liquidation of the recent weak features. Over thirty new low records for the year were made during the forenoon. While this movement was in progress the market was unsettled, some stocks moving back and forth with violence. Bonds were irregular. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

COTTON MARKETS

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, May 1.—The cotton market was more active to-day, and at times showed considerable excitement with the close steady and from 1824 points net higher. The opening was firm at an advance of 19219 points in response to higher Liverpool cables, private reports indicating that the increase in acreage this spring would be less than 4 per cent, and rumors that there was a big short interest in fully contracts which would be without much protection in the way of local warehouse stocks after proposed shipments to Liverpool. There was heavy realizing by recent buyers around the initial figures, while the market also met considerable selling from Southern and local bearish sources, and prices cased off several points from the best during the early trading. Business became less active on the setback, however, and after a comparatively quiet middle session the market developed renewed strength on a more active demand from old crop shorts, with both May and July ontracts reaching the highest level of the day and about 24725 points above the closing figures of last night in the late trading. Owing probably to continued favorable weather in the South, new crop positions does not fully follow the old crop advance, but the general market closed within 2 or 3 points of the best. Private cables attributed the advance was no change in the character of European political advices. The western belt forecast for increasingly cloudy weather, with showers in West Texas, followed by low temperatures, may have inspired some of the buying, but the advance was most generally attributed to apprehension that the market had become oversion and four of a squeeze in old crop contracts.

Spot corn and at time showed within 5 or 3 points of the bard probably to continue favorable weather in the South, new crop positions does not fully follow the old crop advance but the general particular of the part Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands, 11.95; middling gulf, 12.20; sales, 8.700 bales.

New Orleans, May I.—The price of cotton reacted rather violently to-day from the recent decline, the active months at their highest being almost $1$ a bale over yesteringless being almost $1$ a bale over yesteringless being almost $1$ a bale over yesteringless the second of the opening the tone was steady and prices were light points up. Liverpool stood at a sensational rise for that market, and explained its action in private messages by staing that shorts were covering on reports of cold weather in Texas. This statement was followed by some little fresh short selling, as bears pointed out that Texas was onjoying seasonable weather for first time in several days. A private bureau report showing an increase in acreage of 2,7 per cent also helped the bears for awhite and prices were put down to within $653

HOLD CONFERENCE TO HELP DAIRYING

Agricultural Agencies Will Meet at Governor's Office Next Week.

WILL ATTEMPT CO-OPERATION

Departments Now Play Lone Hand, and Will Try to Work Together.

For the purpose of bringing about co-operative effort among the several agencies working for the development of the dairying industry in Virginia, a conference of officials will be held Satconference of officials will be held Sat-urday. May 10, in the office of Gov-ernor Mann, who will preside if he is well enough to be at the meeting. Plans will be discussed looking to united effort for the upbuilding of an almost neglected and profitable branch of farming.

W. D. Saunders, State Dairy and Food Commissioner; Peyton Rowe, deputy commissioner, having special deputy commissioner, having special charge of dairy inspection; Dr. J. G. Ferneyhough, State Veterinarian; T. O. Sandy, chief demonstration agent for Virginia, United States Department of Agriculture; J. D. Eggleston, as prosident-elect of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and B. H. Rawl, dairy expert with the department in Washington, will take part in the conference. The Governor has signified his interest in the proceedings.

the proceedings.

Good Dairying State.

Virginia is said to produce not more than 10 per cent of the dairy products she consumes, and so sends 90 per cent of the money out of the State. A pagaker at the recent Conference for speaker at the recent Conference for Education in the South quoted Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota, one of the great dairy States of the West, as saying that Virginia is naturally the best dairy State in the Union. She ternational Granite Cutters' Union in and around the city was freely discussed last night, but both employes and strikers were apparently firm in the determination not to *leld. The demands of the striking stone workers are briefly these:

1. A raise of 50 cents a day, making the wages of a stone cutter $4 for the working day.

2. The elimination of all piece work

Studied Milk Testing.

2. The elimination of all piece work and the substitution of a flat rate for all labor

3. Half day off on Saturdays.

4. Permission for the stone polishers to join the union.

From the general attitude of the employers, it appears that they are willing ing to accede to practically all the demands except those for more pay.

Granite cutting in Richmond is a limited industry, they say. They affirm the understood it. Comparisonable profit under the present wage scale of $3.5) a day for stone cutters, and that a 50-cent increase would take away all surplus earnings. So many Richmond contractors buy stone already cut outside the city that not a great deal of business growth is in sight for the local stone and marble of the high mortality rate of their cocupation, which ranks near the top of the owner.

On the other hand, the strikers point to the high mortality rate of their cocupation, which ranks near the top of the various industries. Damage Suit on Trial.

Trial began yesterday in the Law and Equity Court of the suit of Mrs. Clara S. Mindell against the Virginia Railway and Power Company. The action is for $5,000 damages for personal injuries, and will probably take several days.

Pleading guilty to the offense charged, the Richmond Refining Company yesterday paid the sum of $50 into the county treasury for maintaining a nuisance in Henrico County. The concern was summoned to appear before Magistrate H. S. Sunday last October and was fined. The case was appealed to the upper court, but when called yesterday the company, through its attorney, withdrew the appeal.
